A CAT IN PARIS

1

Match the sentences with each character. Write their names below their picture.

I'm a police officer. My mission is to take care of my little girl and to avenge the death of my husband by capturing the most dangerous of all criminals.

I live with a girl during the day and go on adventures with a thief at night.

I have a beautiful cat and my mom is a police officer. Ever since my dad died, I have not been able to speak.

I wait for my cat to go inside people's houses to steal their jewelry at night, but I'm a big-hearted thief. I would not harm anyone.

Just like the cat, I have a double life. I'm a baby sitter but also work for a gangster. My perfume is very strong.

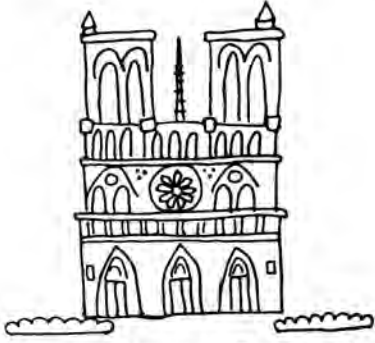

I'm a gangster and the police is looking for me. I'm obsessed with the Colossus of Nairobi. I'm also the reason Zoe has no dad.

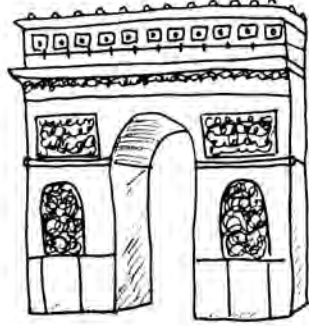

2 Imagine that your pet – real or invented – leads a double life at night while you're sleeping. What sort of adventures would he or she be up to? Write or draw below what a typical night for your pet would be like, and the characters he or she might meet along the way.

3 Let's help Zoe, Nico, and Dino escape through the rooftops of Paris. How many buildings could you add to their background? Cut out the buildings below and paste them in the background. You can also cut out the characters and create your scene on a bigger piece of paper. Color the final scene.

Notre Dame Cathedral

Arc De Triomphe

Sacre Coeur Cathedral

Eiffel Tower
