

Film activate:

Just keep swimming

1

FINDING NEMO

In this marvelous tale featuring the colorful world of the tropical sea and exposing the dangers of life in the ocean, we also learn about living with disabilities. Nemo has a small "lucky" fin, as his dad calls it, and Dory suffers from short-term memory loss. At school, Nemo's classmates accept his disability, empathize, and tell him about their own: one has a shorter tentacle, and another one is allergic to H₂O. What are some of the amazing character traits Nemo and Dory display that make them overcome their disabilities? Circle all that apply.

- Communicative Brave
- Self-confident Rebellious
- Cheery Curious Kind
- Responsible Relilable

2 Crush, the turtle, Marlin, the clown fish, and P. Sherman the dentist, all have different parenting styles toward Squirt, Nemo, and Darla respectively. Which one did you like best and why?

Color the characters with your favorite markers, pencils, or crayons.

3 Bruce, Anchor, and Chum are sharks. Sharks are not vegetarian, but this trio has made a promise to not eat their fish friends. They get together frequently to remind each other about this goal. However, their urge to eat them could sometimes take the best of them. Have you or someone you know struggle to maintain a habit that is hard to keep? For example, eating less candies, using less electronic devices, helping at home, reading more, etc. Which is your goal, promise, or resolution? Could you come up with a goal in case you do not have one? Get inspired by the sharks and write or draw yours below.

JUST KEEP SWIMMING

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for drawing or writing a goal.

My goal is to

A set of handwriting practice lines consisting of a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. Below this set, there are two more identical sets of lines for additional practice.