

Film activate: Oh, Baby!

1 In this film, mistaken identities and absurd instances take center stage with romance by its side. How different are the characters of Susan and David? Write their character traits below to compare them.

	Susan Vance	Dr. David Huxley

2 Screwball Comedy films include a variety of features including: witty, fast-paced dialogue, misunderstandings, the battle of the sexes, and the struggle between different social classes. This film also has a typical comedy ending. What would you have done as an alternative ending? Draw the new ending below.

3 The actor that plays Dr. Huxley was so terrified of the leopard that the director had to come up with creative shots so that they never actually acted together in any one scene. The actress, on the contrary, was so comfortable that she even wore perfume to attract the leopard toward her with the scent. Pretend you are an actor/actress in a famous movie where a tamed, wild animal is also a star. What kind of animal would this one be? Draw it below.
